

EASTER SERVICES AT UNITY ON GREENVILLE

A New Vision for Overcoming, Reawakening and Rebirth

Palm Sunday Service

April 1, 2012 11:00 am
With Rev. Steve Colladay

The Palm Sunday decision: choosing a life of triumphant living. The triumphant entry of Jesus into Jerusalem was but a prelude to the glory of the resurrection. Each and every day we have a choice: will we consciously make a decision to embrace a life of overcoming and triumph? Our conscious decision to follow divine instruction is a necessary prelude to overcoming and triumphant living.

Maundy-Thursday Communion Service

April 5, 7:00 pm
With Rev. Steve Colladay and Prayer Chaplains

Maundy Thursday in Unity is an acknowledgement and celebration of the Upper Room experience that Jesus shared with His disciples the night before He was arrested and eventually crucified. Join us as we share the deep meaning of the "Last Supper" in sacred Unity ceremony through a traditional foot washing ceremony and spiritual communion.

Good Friday Service

April 6, 12 Noon
With Rev. Steve Colladay and Prayer Chaplains

Join us as we explore the metaphysical meaning of the crucifixion. How can we relate to its core meaning? How do we transform our lives through the fire of its creative action? Good Friday was the darkness before the dawn--the dawn of an awakened humanity. The Spirit of Jesus the Christ lives, and His teachings live because of the events of Easter weekend. We all have Good Friday moments in our lives when seemingly all is lost. But then, when we turn to God, our lives are resurrected--there is new faith and new belief about our future journey, a fresh joy at being alive.

Easter Sunday Service

April 8, 11:00 am
With Rev. Steve Colladay

The compelling power of Easter presents a new vision for overcoming, reawakening and rebirth, and ultimately, a change of mind about the meaning of the world. For rising above any experience of pain, lack or limitation or seeming defeat reflects the ultimate message of Easter: we can overcome. Easter is all about releasing the pain we all have. The promise of Easter is not to experience pain, but to follow the Christ within--not to the cross, but to the resurrection and life.

The powerful Easter message of Jesus continues to be that "I am YOUR resurrection and YOUR life. You live in me because, like myself, you live in God. And everyone lives in you, as you live in everyone." Friend, let us celebrate the risen Christ, a symbol of joy, the sign of peace, and realize beyond any doubt that we are resurrected into God's life, light and power as we live in unity with the indwelling Christ.
